CARTE POSTALE.

POSTKARTE,

President's Palace, on the Plaza de Armas (or public square), is one of the finest buildings in Havana and occupies a whole square. It was erected in 1834, but has been partly remodelled by the Americans. Besides the residence of the President, the building contains the Hall of City Government and various civil offices. On May 20, 1902, the flag of Cuba was raised on the Palace.
